

Post Code Debrief (not part of the patient chart)

As soon as reasonably possible after the resuscitation is complete bring the responders together to discuss the following questions.

How is everyone doing?

If anyone answers no – what follow-up supports need to be offered/put in place?

What went well, why did it go well, what can we learn that we might adopt into our processes to make them better?

What did we learn?

What would we do differently next time?

Did we have any system issues, such as equipment, processes or information flow?

Who is going to follow up to get the system issues fixed and by when? How will we communicate our learnings with our team?

Send to unit manager with copy to Code Blue-Pink Committee.
